Appomattox County 4-H'ers Attend State 4-H Congress

4-H: Opportunity to Choose was the theme of this year's State 4-H Congress. Last week, the 22 Appomattox County 4-H'ers who attended State 4-H Congress at Virginia Tech had many opportunities to choose, learn and have fun. From the time the bus left Monday morning until it returned Friday morning, the hours were jam-packed with competition, awards ceremonies, entertainment, educational experiences and fellowship with other delegates. Congress President, our own Joe Ford, and the rest of the cabinet did a super job of planning the week. We were especially proud of the great job President Ford did during the week. On Monday night, he officially opened the Congress and encouraged delegates to take advantage of the opportunities to choose that were offered during the week. Cheryl Walton was awarded a trip to National 4-H Congress in Consumer Education and David Caldwell was recognized for winning a trip to Kentucky State Congress. During the week, the Appomattox delegation also hosted out of state delegates from Kentucky and Tennessee.

Tuesday was contest day and Appomattox 4-H'ers turned in a good report. The meats team placed fifth in the state. Bonnie Drinkard, Richard Conner, who was 5th high individual, and Steve Conner, who ranked 6th, were the members of the team. Philip Jacobs placed second with his illustrated talk in Electricity and Dana White got second for hers in Horse. Egg cookery was a new area this year and Terri Nash placed third. Blue ribbon winners were Susan Parris in Home Management, Jane Guill in Breads and Cereals and Susan Shorter and Lisa Moore in Share-the-Fun. Rhonda Nash won a red ribbon in Meat and Meat Alternates and Laura Walton received a red ribbon in Clothing. Later in the day, the East Central District delegates selected David Caldwell as their alternate for Male Cabinet member. State and national donors, who contributed over $45,000 in scholarships, were recognized that night. Attorney General Marshall Coleman also addressed the group.

Wednesday and Thursday mornings all delegates participated in Human Development Learning activities that focused on acquiring communication skills. The 4-H Olympics, which included a mile run for fun, were Wednesday afternoon. That evening, the 4-H Jazz Band concert, which Allen Smith played in, was a highlight of the week.

The traditional 4-H All-Star tapping ceremony was held Thursday afternoon. 4-H'ers who display leadership ability, integrity of character and outstanding achievement in both project and service activities may be tapped into the organization and may be active for life. This year seven Appomattox 4-H'ers were so honored. They were Lisa Moore, Rhonda Nash, Tamara Nash, Susan Parris, Cheryl Walton, David Caldwell, Jr. and Ernie Chenault. The evening program included the Share-the-Fun show, Dress Revue, dance and officer installation.

We can all be proud of the Appomattox delegation. They are all winners. Everyone came home with many experiences and good memories. We especially want to thank the Lions Club and the Appomattox County Extension Homemakers Council for each contributing $150 for scholarships for 4-H'ers to attend Congress. You are an invaluable part of the program.

Summer Extension Trainee

Col. Larry D. Wright

New 89th Chief Goes Home to Washington

Larry D. Wright received his Colonel bars about three weeks ago and took command of Air Force I and II at Andrews Air Force Base.

The son of Horace J. and Frances Wright of Cedar Knolls in Appomattox, Col. Wright had been stationed at Charleston Air Force Base, South Carolina in the 437th Avionics Maintenance Squardron.

The Washington, D. C. native said the assignment was very gratifying and that it also meant coming home. He added, "it means another chance to fulfill a dream - to be a flier, to be in the Air Force."

Wright said his father, Horace Wright, used to take him out and let him watch the airplanes at Bolling and National when he was a boy during World War II. His biggest ambition was to become a pilot in the Air Force - and that dream came true for the Colonel.
